T H U R S D A Y, March 8, 1770.

His MAJESTY's moſt Gracious SPEECH to both HOUSES of PARLIAMENT, on Tueſday the Ninth Day of January, 1770.

My Lords, and Gentlemen,

IT is with much concern that I find myſelf obliged to open this ſeſſion of parliament with acquainting you, that the diſtemper among the horned cattle has lately broke out in this kingdom; notwithſtanding every precaution that could be uſed for preventing the infection from foreign parts. Upon the firſt notice of its actual appearance, my next attention was to endeavour to ſtop, if poſſible, its farther progreſs. And as the ſucceſs of thoſe endeavours muſt, in all probability, have been entirely defeated by any the leaſt degree of delay in the application of them, I thought it abſolutely neceſſary, with the advice of my privy council, to give immediate directions for every ſtep to be taken, that appeared moſt capable of checking the inſtant danger of the ſpreading of the infection, until I could have an opportunity of conſulting my parliament upon ſome more permanent meaſures, for ſecuring us againſt ſo great a calamity: And to your immediate and moſt ſerious conſideration I earneſtly recommend this very important object.

I have given my parliament repeated aſſurances, that it has always been my fixed purpoſe to preſerve the general tranquillity; maintaining, at the ſame time, the dignity and honour of my crown, together with the juſt rights and intereſts of my people. The uncommon burthens which my ſubjects have borne ſo chearfully, in order to bring the late war to a happy concluſion, muſt be an additional motive to make me viligant, to prevent the diſturbances in Europe from extending to any part, where the ſecurity, honour, or intereſt of this nation may make it neceſſary for my crown to become a party. The aſſurances which I receive from the other great powers afford me reaſon to believe, that my endeavours will continue to be ſucceſsful. I ſhall ſtill make the general intereſts of Europe the object of my attention; and, while I ſteadily ſupport my own rights, I ſhall be equally careful not to ackuowledge the claims of any other powers, contrary to the limitations of the late treaties of peace.

It is needleſs for me to recommend to the ſerious attention of my parliament the ſtate of my government in America. I have endeavoured, on my part, by every means, to bring back my ſubjects there to their duty, and to a due ſenſe of lawful authority. It gives me much concern to inform you, that the ſucceſs of my endeavours has not anſwered my expectations; and that, in ſome of my colonies, many perſons have embarked in meaſures highly unwarrantable, and calculated to deſtroy the commercial connection between them and the mother country.

Gentlemen of the Houſe of Commons,

I have ordered the proper eſtimates for the ſervice of the current year to be laid before you. I am perſuaded that your affection for my perſon and government, and your zeal for the public good, will induce you to grant ſuch ſupplies as are neceſſary; and you may be aſſured, that, on my part, they ſhall be managed with the ſtricteſt œconomy.

My Lords, and Gentlemen,

As the welfare and proſperity of my people, have always been the object of my wiſhes, and the rule of my actions; ſo I am perſuaded, from my experience of your conduct, that you will be governed in your proceedings by the ſame principles. My ready concurrence and ſupport in every meaſure that may ſerve to promote thoſe ends you may always depend upon. On you it will be now, more than ever, incumbent, moſt carefully to avoid all heats and animoſities amongſt yourſelves, and to cultivate that ſpirit of harmony which becomes thoſe, who have but one common object in their view, and which may be moſt likely to give authority and efficacy to the reſult of your deliberations. Such a conduct, on your part, will, above all things, contribute to maintain in their proper luſtre, the ſtrength, the reputation, and the proſperity of this country; to ſtrengthen the attachment of my ſubjects to that excellent conſtitution of government, from which they derive ſuch diſtinguiſhed advantages; and to cauſe the firm reliance and confidence which I have in the wiſdom of my parliament, as well as in their zeal for the true intereſt of my people, to be juſtified and approved both at home and abroad.

Maſter of the Brigantine Hope, [illegible] Teneriff.

P. S. I acknowledge that I refuſed to ſtore my Wines under the Committee.

SOUTH-CAROLINA, BERKLEY-COUNTY. } To wit.

PERSONALLY appeared before me, the Hon. OTHNIEL BEALE, Eſq; Preſident of his Majeſty's honourable Council, and one of his Majeſty's Juſtices of the Peace, Quorum Unus, ALEXANDER LIVINGSTON, Maſter of the Brigantine Hope, lately arrived in this harbour, from the iſland of Teneriff, and having ſome wines on board the ſaid veſſel; who, being duly ſworn, upon the Holy Evangeliſts of Almighty God, made oath, and declared as follows, to wit. That the day after this deponent landed his wines, in one of the ſtores of the honourable John Burn, Eſq; on his new wharf, Mr. John Tuke, brought Mr. Richard Wayne, one of the co-partners of Wilſon, Coram, Wayne, & Co. to the ſaid ſtore, and being there, moſt of the wines were taſted by them: Mr. Richard Wayne departing, Mr. John Tuke ſaid to this deponent, perhaps he would take the whole of thoſe wines, "if Mr. Wayne liked them." After that time, and for ſome days, every appearance of a bargain or ſale between them ſubſided: But, on the day preceding, the general meeting under Liberty-Tree, to diſcuſs matters relative to Captain Gillon's wines, and at about 11 o'clock in the forenoon of the ſame day, Mr. John Tuke came again to this deponent, and enquired if the wines were ſold, and being anſwered in the negative, he aſked this deponent, if he would take flour for the wines, valuing the wine at £. 100 currency per pipe, and the flour to be delivered at the fair market and current price: To which this deponent aſſenting, Mr. John Tuke told this deponent, that he would give him an anſwer by two o'clock of that afternoon; and very ſoon after dinner, the ſaid John Tuke, went to the ſtore of Wilſon, Coram, Wayne, & Co. and making a very ſhort ſtay there, returned, and told this deponent, that it was a bargain; that he would pay him in flour, and at the market price. That then, the ſaid John Tuke, went with this deponent to the ſtore, and ſaw the wines in a merchantable condition; and which being done, this deponent locked the ſtore door, and walked from thence to Mr. Tuke's houſe: But before this deponent went into the houſe, or did deliver the key of the ſaid ſtore to Mr. Tuke, he, this deponent, did enquire of the ſaid Tuke, and inſiſted to know, upon whoſe account the ſaid wines were bought; to which Mr. Tuke replied, that they were for the ſame people he was before treating for, and you know, ſays he (Mr. Tuke) "they are, Wilſon, Coram, Wayne, & Co." Upon which, this deponent replied, they are very good people, and that he deſired no better; Mr. Tuke then enjoined this deponent to ſecrecy: That this deponent went into the houſe with ſaid Tuke, and took his receipt for the wines, copy of which is as follows,

"Received, January 30th, 1770, of Captain Alexander Livingſton, Twelve Pipes, and Fourteen Quarter-Caſks of Wine, in a ſtore on Burn's wharf, at the rate of £. 100 per pipe. (ſigned) J. TUKE.

"For which I am to deliver Flour, at the market price, on demand. J. TUKE."

and then gave him the key of the ſtore. John Tuke then declared, that this deponent might have the flour immediately, or the next day: But, when the next day came, he, (John Tuke) began to equivocate, and ſaid, he could not get the flour in time, and told this deponent that, the gentlemen, Wilſon, Coram, Wayne, & Co. wanted to be off the bargain; to which this deponent replied, that he would not let them off; that the wines were ſold through his means, acting as a broker, between the parties: That then, Mr. Tuke took this deponent to the ſtore of Meſſieurs Wilſon, Coram, Wayne, & Co. but the proper perſons not being there, they both left it: Soon afterwards Mr. John Tuke went again, and returned to his own houſe, with two ſamples of flour; which not being approved, upon inſpection, this deponent, with Mr. Tuke, proceeded to Mr. Loocock's ſtore, at which place the flour was of a better quality, and approved by the deponent: Then Mr. Tuke went to Wilſon, Coram, Wayne, & Co. to acquaint them of what had been done in the matter, and ſoon after returned to this deponent, and told him, that they approved of what had been done at Loocock's, for their account. The next day, this deponent finding a tardineſs in Mr. Tuke, he preſſed him almoſt hourly, to have the buſineſs completed; and that the matter might not tranſpire to the prejudice of Wilſon, Coram, Wayne, & Co. he, the ſaid Mr. Tuke, frequently went to them, as deſired; this deponent ſaw them, at ſundry times, in conſultation about the ſaid buſineſs: At length, Mr. Tuke returned, and ſaid to this deponent, that they, Wilſon, Coram, Wayne, & Co. had flung the burthen upon him; that he could not help it; that he ſhould be ruined! wiſhed his throat was cut; deſired a piſtol might be given to him, that he might blow his own brains out, with a many terrible, et extera's.

This was all the ſatisfaction the deponent could get of Mr. Tuke; and afterwards, being before the committee, and relating the purport of this depoſition, he, upon ſome ſeeming ambiguities ariſing, made a motion that the parties might be ſworn, and voluntary firſt for himſelf, he begged to be heard upon oath, but affidavits were waved. Had the committee ſworn this deponent, John Tuke, John Coram, and Richard Wayne, ſeverally, they would not, they could not, from conſcience ſake, or from facts, have exhibited to the public their advertiſement, ſupported only by Mr. Tuke's bare word, or ſigning to a paper. Further this deponent ſaith not. ALEXANDER LIVINGSTON.

Mr. TIMOTHY,

IT is with great pleaſure, that I have lately read ſeveral letters and pieces, both in yours and Mr. Wells's Gazettes, in favour of EDUCATION, and the inſtitution of a well-founded SEMINARY of LEARNING in this province. It would be needleſs to take up your time, in advancing any new arguments, to prove the advantages that would ariſe from it; the world, in general, being ſenſible, that a good education is the ſource both of public and private happineſs: I ſhall therefore briefly recapitulate, a few of thoſe arguments brought in favour of, and afterwards endeavour to anſwer the principal objections, which I am told are uſed againſt, an inſtitution of that kind here.

The arguments adduced in favour of this matter, have turned upon the following points, viz. the natural tendency, in every mind, towards knowledge, which ought to be cultivated.

The great ſatisfaction that parents would have, in ſeeing their offspring reared up under their own eyes, and of being the immediate ſuperintendents of their morals.

The ſecuring the affections of our youth to their native country.

The great advantage of giving to the public, men of cultivated minds, capable of ſerving their country with abilities.

The immediate influence it would have upon our grammar-ſchools: for as there would be a call for good ſcholars, an emulation would take place among the maſters; and, as their reputation, as well as their bread, would depend upon their diligence, we ſhould have the Latin and Greek languages as well taught here, as in any part of the world: The want of ſuch an eſtabliſhment, is the only reaſon why they have hitherto proved ineffectual; and without it, they will ever remain ſo.

The keeping large ſums of money amongſt us, which are now abſolutely loſt to the province, being annually ſent out of it for the purpoſe of education, which among our œconomical plans (much to be commended) ſhould by no means be neglected.

The eventually providing for many of our own countrymen, who might ſoon become able phyſicians, divines, &c. and enjoy thoſe advantages amongſt us which ſtrangers now do.

Beſides theſe, there are many other advantages which will ariſe, from ſuch an eſtabliſhment, that muſt occur to the reader's mind, whenever he conſiders or thinks ſeriouſly of the ſubject.

The principal objections, as I have been informed, that have been generally uſed againſt this eſtabliſhment, are

FIRST, That it can be of no advantage, to inſtruct our children in the learned languages; and that much of their time is loſt in acquiring them.

This is a round aſſertion indeed: But the force of it muſt fall to the ground, if we conſider, that the period of life alloted for the learning of the Latin and Greek languages, which it generally from eight to fourteen, or perhaps fifteen years of age, cannot be better employed; for, beſides their gaining the knowledge of grammar, which enables them to write in their own language with propriety (and it is impoſſible even to write correctly in the Engliſh language, without that foundation being previouſly laid) I ſay, that beſides this valuable acquiſition, there is no period of life ſo apt for proper impreſſions, as the years alloted for the grammar ſchool; and no leſſons can furniſh more excellent examples of correct writing and regular living, than what are contained in the claſſics.

The SECOND objection, viz. That the COLLEGE might be filled with profeſſors of one country, of one ſentiment, and one way of thinking.

The poſſibility of this argument, I really grant; but the probability of its ever being ſo, I think ſcarcely admiſſible, and of little conſequence if it ſhould ever happen. But, for argument ſake, ſuppoſe they were all of the ſame country and ſentiments; and that the truſtees might, now and then, be miſtaken in their choice of tutors and profeſſors; would it not be in the power of the ſame truſtees, to remove any one who could not, or did not, properly diſcharge the office entruſted to him? It is in our own power to nominate and watch over truſtees; and it will be always in their power, to prevent, or cure, any and every real, as well as imaginary, evil that may ariſe; and ſhall we then, through the ill-grounded dread of a partial and tranſitory inconvenience, perhaps the mere phantom of prejudice, withhold from our offſpring and poſterity, ſo general and permanent a good, as ſuch an eſtabliſhment promiſes to them? God forbid!

The THIRD objection, viz. That learning would become cheap, and too common; and that every man would be for giving his ſon an education.

Although I believe this opinion is ill-founded (for we don't find, that in every place where learning is to be had eaſily, this practice is generally obſerved) yet I think every man, let his rank in life be what it will, whoſe inclination may lead him to give his ſon a liberal education, ſhould have it in his power to do ſo; for, why ſhould a few rich men only, have it in their power to educate their children properly? This would be monopolizing the free gifts of God and Nature with a vengeance! Shall the ſober induſtrious, honeſt mechanic, be deprived of giving thoſe advantages to his ſon, which his care and labour have enabled him to procure for him; merely becauſe it would put him upon a level with the ſon of a rich planter? The beſt way to make the rich and opulent attentive to their ſtations and ſuperior advantages, is, to give them rivals, from amongſt thoſe whom they may be pleaſed to call the Vulgar. Will it not ſatisfy every rich man amongſt us, that he has it in his power to procure greater advantages to his ſon? And will he not permit me to have an opportunity of giving a few of thoſe advantages to mine? Is it not enough for him, that he now ſurpaſſes me in his ſtation and abilities; and does he want to tranſmit that ſuperiority, to his ſon, over my ſon? Surely, this is the drift and conſequence of this argument, if it has a meaning.

The FOURTH objection, viz. That the climate is too warm for ſtudy.

Let us conſider, that Greece, Italy, Egypt, and other places in Africa, &c. are in very warm latitudes; yet, they were famous for educating, and ſending abroad, learned men of all kinds, great orators, great commanders, wiſe legiſlators, excellent hiſtorians, and ſkilful phyſicians, &c. beſides, it is well known, that, in all Colleges and Univerſities, there are times of vacation; let theſe vacations take place in four of our hotteſt months (and that period is ſhorter than the vacations generally are in Europe) and the reſt of the year is as pleaſant, and as fit for ſtudy, as it is in any part of the world.

The very principle of denying learning to every man who has a capacity and opportunity of receiving it, is in itſelf a ſlaviſh principle, begot on pride and illiberality of ſentiment, and is the great ſupport of deſpotic government, either in church or ſtate.

What would be the inconvenience to this province, or what would it ſuffer, if a planter, inſtead of waſting his time in idleneſs and diſſipation, ſhould be capable of ſpending his leiſure hours in ſolving a problem in mechanics; examining or peruſing the ſentiments and obſervations of the beſt writers, on the nature of ſoils, and vegetation; or, in ſtudying the wiſe maxims and ſolid writings of the ſages of antient and modern times, on government and civil polity? Would he be the worſe, for having read Euclid, Collumella, Tull, or Duhamel? Or, would he be leſs capable of aſſiſting, in the debates and deliberations of our council or aſſembly, becauſe he knew, and had ſtudied, the nature of government in general, and the hiſtory and genius of the Britiſh conſtitution in particular?

I could enlarge much upon this important ſubject, but at preſent, Mr. Timothy, I will treſpaſs no longer on yours or your reader's patience. I am, yours, &c.

A CAROLINIAN.

CHARLES-TOWN, FEBRUARY 24.

ON Friday laſt arrived here from Falmouth a very handſome new Snow Packet-Boat, called the Sandwich, commanded by Capt. Richard Nottingham: By which, His Honour the Lieutenant Governor received the Royal Approbation of the Circuit-Court Act paſſed here the 29th Day of July laſt; but it is not to take Effect, before the Court-houſes and Goals, thereby directed to be built, in the ſeveral Diſtricts, are completed, and public Notice thereof given by Proclamation.

By the ſaid Packet, we have Advice, of the Appointment of Thomas Boone, Eſq; late Governor of this Province, to be a Commiſſioner of his Majeſty's Cuſtoms, in the Room of Sir Joſeph Pennington. And of the Death of the Rev. Sir John Head, Bart. D. D. one of the Prebends of the Cathedral of Canterbury, Archdeacon of the Dioceſe, &c. &c. whoſe Title deſcends to Mr. Edmund Head, Merchant in this Town, but, we hear, will not be aſſumed by him.

Letters from all Parts of Great-Britain, down to the 23d of December, aſſure us (whatever others may write, who wiſh the Fall of America, that THEY may riſe) that the Effects of the American Reſolutions, are very ſenſibly felt, not only by the Merchants there, but alſo by the Manufactures and Artizans; and, if reſolutely and honeſtly perſiſted in, but without violence, will be the ONLY effectual Means of working out our political Salvation, and rendering us Subjects worthy of a Britiſh King.

Six Companies of His Majeſty's 31ſt Regiment, are gone from St. Auguſtine, to Weſt-Florida, and one Company to Bermuda.

On Tueſday laſt the Appointment of the Hon. EGERTON LEIGH, to be Grand Maſter of Free and Accepted Maſons in this Province, was notified in due Form, in the Preſence of upwards of 120 of the Brotherhood, who unanimouſly expreſſed the higheſt Satisfaction thereat. The Hon. Grand Maſter, immediately after, gave an excellent Charge to the Brethren. And at the Cloſe of the Ceremony, the following Lines, compoſed by a Brother, and ſet to Muſic by Mr. Peter Valton, were ſung and played, viz.

WHILE PALLAS and PHŒBUS, in grand council ſat,
With BACCHUS and VENUS; a ſolemn debate
About a GRAND-MASTER's appointment aroſe,
Which had like to have ended in deſperate Blows.

To fill that high office (ſays Pallas) none's fit,
Who's void of true Wiſdom, of Learning, and Wit;
Hence then all ye blockheads, hence ſtraitway repair,
Since none but my vot'ry ſhall ſit in the chair.

Not ſo faſt (cries Apollo) thou blue-ey'ed maid!
To Muſic's ſweet pow'rs let a deference be paid:
For I ſwear that none ever my vote will controul
Who ſhall be devoid of a muſical ſoul.

Hey day! quoth the God of the generous Vine,
I'll vote for none elſe but a lover of Wine;
For none is e'er fit o'er Maſons to ſway,
Whoſe heart is not jolly, blith, ſocial, and Gay.

Pray what (ſays Dame Venus,) can Maſonry boaſt,
Without a fair damſel t'afford them a toaſt?
None ſhall the Grand-Maſter's high mandates obey,
If he does not acknowledge my ſovereign ſway.

If you'll liſten (ſays JOVE) I'll ſet you all right;
"Let all your perfections in one Man unite, [plan:
"Him chooſe as GRAND-MASTER:"—They approve of the Then BEAUFORT proclaimed, that "LEIGH was the Man."

John Troup, Eſq; is appointed Advocate-General in his Majeſty's Court of Vice Admiralty for this Province, in the Room of John Dering, Eſq; deceaſed.

On Friday laſt died at Aſhepoo, Thomas Pinckney, Eſq; late a Lieutenant in His Majeſty's 60th or Royal American Regiment; who ſerved in America all the laſt War, was at the Sieges and Reduction of Louiſbourg, Martinique and Havanna, wounded in the Battle on the Plains of Abraham, and always behaved as a brave and gallant Officer.

On Monday laſt died, ſincerely regretted, the worthy Rector of St. Bartholomew's Pariſh, the Rev. John Evans.

This Day Mr. William Doughty, Merchant, was married to Miſs Rachel Porcher, youngeſt Daughter of Iſaac Porcher, Eſquire.

CHARLES-TOWN, MARCH 1.

AT the numerous Meeting of the BODY of MERCHANTS and FACTORS in this Town on the 13th paſt, to concert the moſt effectual Meaſures, for preventing Maſters of Veſſels and other tranſient Perſons importing, and clandeſtinely ſelling, EUROPEAN and EAST-INDIA GOODS, WINES and SLAVES; it was determined to leave the framing of an Agreement for that Purpoſe, to the GENERAL COMMITTEE. The General Committee accordingly, at their Meeting on the 20th, appointed a particular Committee to draw up a Form: On Tueſday laſt, the 27th, the ſame was reported to the ſaid General Committee, and approved of. Yeſterday it was carried about to be ſigned, when upwards of Sixty MERCHANTS and FACTORS ſubſcribed their Names thereto; and there is Reaſon to believe, that not one, who ſubſcribed the Reſolutions of the 22d of July laſt, will heſitate to ſign this. The Purport thereof, we hear, is;

"That as the Reſolutions, to prevent the Importation of, &c.
"until the Colonies be RESTORED to their ancient Freedom,
"would be defective, while Maſters of Veſſels and other tranſient
"Perſons were permitted to take an undue Advantage of the Times,
"by importing, &c. and thereby, in ſome Meaſure, rendering
"ineffectual the ſalutary Intentions of the ſaid Reſolutions:
"Therefore, to remedy a Proceeding ſo pernicious in its Conſe-
"quences, they (ALL the Merchants, Importers, and Factors)
"agree, that they will not, UPON ANY CONSIDERATION,
"employ or freight any Veſſel (except ſuch as are chartered and
"ſhall arrive by the 1ſt Day of July next) or SELL any Produce
"of this Colony, TO OR FOR, ANY MASTER OF VESSEL or
"other TRANSIENT PERSON, who ſhall REFUSE to STORE,
"or RESHIP by the firſt Opportunity, the Goods by them
"imported (Coals and Salt excepted) or who ſhall even attempt,
"in any Manner, TO DISPOSE OF THEM in this Province,
"before a general Importation takes Place."

Letters from England, down to the 19th of January, leave us in Doubt, whether the Acts that have proved ſo univerſally diſguſtful to His Majeſty's American Subjects, will be repealed the preſent Seſſion of Parliament, or not: But ſome of them ſay, that the Americans Pulſe will be tried, by a partial Repeal; and, that if we thereupon reſume our Importations, all future Struggles for our conſtitutional Rights, Liberties, and Privileges, will be uſeleſs. Miniſterial Writers (who thereby diſcover their baſe Views, as well as their Ignorance) inſinuate, nay, even aſſert, that "the Merchants in moſt of the Colonies are receding from their Reſolutions; that the People in general grow heartily tired of them, and will ſoon demand Supplies; that Great-Britain has not ſuffered the leaſt Diminution in her Trade; that the Merchants, Manufactures and Tradeſmen feel no ſort of Inconvenience or Decline of Buſineſs, from many new Demands having ariſen in Ruſſia, Poland, &c. and that the Americans are not aiming at a Redreſs of Grievances, but Independence, &c." But the Writers of private Letters (amongſt which are eminent Merchants and Manufacturers) flatly contradict moſt of theſe Inſinuations; highly applaud our Meaſures; recommending that they may be purſued with Firmneſs, but without Violence; and are not ſo weak as to credit, that an American Subject can wiſh to be independent of the Crown of Great-Britain, while it remains in the Hanoverian Line; though ſhould any of the Race of the Stuarts, legitimate or illegitimate, once uſurp it, there is not the leaſt Room to doubt, that they would, to a Man, prove Rebels.

The Inhabitants of Charles-Town have petitioned the General Aſſembly, that a COLLEGE may be inſtituted in this Province; and like Petitions, as well as Inſtructions to the Repreſentatives, are ſigning in different Parts of the Country upon the ſame Occaſion.

In the Courſe of laſt Month, 8 Ships, 4 Snows, 7 Brigantines, 5 Scooners, 15 Sloops, and 1 Packet-Boat, have arrived here; in all 40 Sail. In the ſame Time have departed this Port, 14 Ships, 1 Snow, 1 Polacre, 10 Brigantines, 7 Scooners, and 18 Sloops; in all 51 Sail.

CHARLES-TOWN, MARCH 8.

THE Agreement of the 28th paſt, we are aſſured, is now ſigned by upwards of 100. Merchants, Importers, and Factors; not one to whom it has been preſented, having offered the leaſt objection.

The Ship Dolphin, Thomas Mackrell, Maſter, from this Port for Goſport, foundered at Sea, by the ſtarting of a Butt, five Days after ſhe went over the Bar. The Captain and Crew were taken up by a Brigantine bound hither, which was blown off the Coaſt, and is arrived at Antigua.

A few Days ago, a ſmall Sloop from Rhode-Iſland, bound for St. Auguſtine, paſſed by this Bar, all well on board.

Many large Pieces of Mahogany have been ſeen along the Coaſt within theſe few Days, whence it is imagined, ſome Veſſel from the Bay of Honduras has lately been loſt upon it.

On Monday laſt the Rev. George Whitefield, ſet out on his Return to Georgia. He preached here to crowded Audiences almoſt every Day ſince his Arrival. And we hear, he intends to embark for the Northern Colonies in about a Month.

The Rev. Hezekiah Smith, with a Collection of about £. 300 Sterling, for the intended College in Rhode-Iſland; and the Rev. James Caldwell, with £. 700 more for that at Prince Town in New-Jerſey, are ſet out on their Return to their reſpective Homes.

Laſt Tueſday Night died, much regretted, and after a lingering Indiſpoſition, THOMAS GADSDEN, Eſq; an eminent Merchant of this Town.

Sorry we are, that the regular Publication of this Gazette has been interrupted by the extreme Length and Severity of the Winter to the Northward, which has prevented our receiving a Supply of Paper from Philadelphia, when our Stock from England was exhauſted: Sorry we are, that we have thereby been prevented giving our Readers a regular Detail of the moſt intereſting Occurrences in Europe and America: But, as we have now eſtabliſhed ſuch a Correſpondence, that the like Misfortune may not befall us again, we propoſe, as ſoon as poſſible, to make up for paſt Deficiencies, and ſhall be glad again to receive our Friends Advertiſements and other Favours, as uſual.—Thoſe who are indebted to the PRINTER, are once more earneſtly requeſted to pay, if they wiſh to ſee him continue the Buſineſs; the long Credit he has given having involved him in many Difficulties.

CHOICE JAMAICA RUM, in Hogſheads, and a few Pipes of excellent MADERA WINE, to be ſold by DANIEL BOURDEAUX.

About One Thouſand Buſhels of black eyed PEASE are wanted immediately. Apply as above.

THE South Part of the Subſcriber's Wharf is now fit for Buſineſs: Coaſting Schooners and inland Boats (of any Size) may now unload there full as commodiouſly and ſafely, and with as great Diſpatch, as in any Dock in Town.—He has Stores already built, that will contain about a fifteen Hundred Barrels of Rice, and is about building more.

He will be much obliged to ſuch Perſons as will order their Produce to be landed at his Wharf; where, whenever they are inclinable to ſtore their Rice, Indico, &c. they will be as ſafe from all Dangers, particularly from Fire, as in any Store in the Province.—He will be particularly attentive to give their Boats the utmoſt Diſpatch; and as he is ſure the Produce of the Province can be diſpoſed of, at his Wharf, to as much Advantage as any where elſe, ſuch of his Friends as will ſend whatever Rice, Indico, or naval Stores, they order to be landed at his Wharf, to him, he will ſell thoſe Articles for them, at the uſual Rates. He will make no Charge this Crop for any Rice ſtored in his Stores, belonging to the Planters, not exceeding one Week, nor belonging to the Merchants, for that Time, provided it is ſhipped off at his Wharf.

CHRISTOPHER GADSDEN.

N. B. There is no Wharf in Town, where the Ships can lay more ſecure, or where their Cables will be ſo little liable to Damage: And ſuch Ships as land their Ballaſt at his Wharf, this Crop, ſhall be charged no Wharfage; be aſſiſted to put it out, and have their Water Caſks filled with as good Water as any to be got in or near Town beſides, GRATIS. Not a Wharf in Town better (if ſo well) calculated for diſpatching a Veſſel; or where there is ſo little Occaſion for Porters to roll Rice, &c.—Indeed, that Charge may be altogether ſaved, or at moſt can coſt the Gentlemen in Trade but a mere Trifle.
